

CORNWALL COUNCILLOR REPORT FEB 2023

Speed Watch has got off to a reasonable start for 2023, especially bearing in mind that not many groups operate during the winter months, but we are fortunate in that compared to many groups, we are all spring chickens!

The more volunteers we have, the more sessions we can do, therefore if you would like to give one or two hours per month, please contact either myself, Vicki or Ian

It is hoped that subject to Cornwall Council Cabinet approval the roll out of the 20mph speed limit will be in place later this year and hopefully I will be provided with an indication as to exactly when at a meeting in April.

There appears to be an increase in the amount of dog fouling on pavements within the Parish with certain roads worse than others and these locations will be reported to the dog warden, however as you will appreciate it is a case of been in the right place at the time for a dog to do it's deposit.

We are all keeping our fingers crossed in respect of the funding application for the new office etc so that we do not need to apply for the next release of money as the funding is somewhat more complicated after I attended last week as it will be allocated on an Area Network Panel basis and even though we are in the largest network with the most funding the process appears complicated.

Time is running out for residents to have their say on Devolution and a Mayor for Cornwall, the consultation closes on 17 February, therefore if you haven't registered your thoughts, please go to the website via www.cornwall.gov.uk where you will find the link.

I discussed Gwel an Mor with the Planning Officer today and hopefully the public decision will be issued shortly, however they have acknowledged that the buffer say cannot be built on.

There are some issues within Portreath that are ongoing, however due to the actions by one person, these will not be discussed so that no minutes can be taken.
