Members of Portreath Parish Council strongly object to this proposal. Councillors felt:- The access to the proposed site is limited and not suitable for the delivery of caravans, static or touring. - The site should remain as agricultural land. The incremental development of what is currently green space outside of an existing settlement area should be discouraged.- Following concerns from neighbours Western Power should be consulted during the planning process. - The number of caravans proposed for the site should be clarified. The supporting information gives conflicting information on the number of caravans proposed. There is a lack of supporting evidence explaining the arrangements for disposing of sewage/septic tanks. - The location of the proposed is not sustainable. There is no safe pedestrian route to shops or schools and the site of the proposal is not served by public transport. Councillors also questioned the need for the permanent day rooms and wish to bring to the attention of the planning officer that works have already commenced on this application. Councillors also question the need for another gypsy site in that parish which already
